

Shipping Infectious And Biological Substances

One day training to help you...

- Eliminate shipping hassles
- Avoid fines
- Protect yourself and the public

Did you know?

- Regulations now make most specimens regulated, and likely render your current shipping methods illegal.
- The government holds the shipper directly responsible for the correct and legal transport of dangerous goods by surface or air.
- The regulations require that anyone who offers for transport, transports, or handles for transport, hazardous materials must be trained (49 CFR Part 172 - Subpart H).

9 Good Reasons To Attend This Seminar

1. Learn to ship infectious and biological substances properly and easily.
2. Complete the training requirements outlined in the US Federal Regulations 49 CFR 172 subpart H.
3. Understand the importance of packing, marking and labeling, documentation and handling and how it applies or affects the shipment of your precious specimens.
4. Uncover ways to minimize time and delivery costs while ensuring your specimens arrive on time, every time.
5. Explore with your colleagues appropriate emergency response and common shipping problems.
6. Find you can cut through vast amounts of local, national and international regulations by using the simple and easy format provided.
7. Guarantee. If you are not fully satisfied with the quality of our workshop or our instructor, we will gladly refund your entire course registration fee.
8. Receive your certificate of training in accordance with domestic and international laws.
9. Gain knowledge and expertise that protects you and your company from potentially onerous liability.

Never been to a Saf-T-Pak seminar?

Saf-T-Pak has trained more people in the safe legal shipping of infectious substances than anyone else. Our comprehensive training has been developed and proven over a period of many years.

"Best session I have attended so far. I have been shipping dangerous goods for ten years. I liked the hands on approach."

Can't make it to one of our public sessions?
Private in house training is available on request.

Our training has been attended by industry and government leaders, officials, and specialists. Even the regulators come! Also included is a manual covering the entire course, excerpts and a crossreference of the regulations. Every course is wrapped up with a hands on session where you package, mark and document a shipment.
